

Geography Ambassadors

Who Are They?

Our Geography Ambassadors are a group of children dedicated to developing knowledge of countries, capitals, and landmarks within Europe and other continents. They explore various global issues and examine how we can contribute to preventing them. Through these efforts, they aim to foster a deeper understanding of the world and develop proactive solutions to common global challenges.

What They Do?

They engage in a variety of activities to enhance our school's geographical knowledge and cultural awareness. They plan fun games to help us retain information on capital cities, use atlases to locate various countries, and improve our geography skills by guessing locations on Google Street View, looking for clues on different landmarks. Additionally, they have the chance to present to children in assemblies, sharing their own culture and traditions, fostering a rich and diverse learning environment. They also explore global issues and discuss what we can do as a community to help address them, promoting a sense of responsibility and proactive engagement.

How They Make A Difference?

- They explore and discuss local and global issues
- They consider proactive solutions to contribute positively to global issues and environmental sustainability
- They celebrate our diverse cultures and traditions, fostering mutual respect and understanding
- They enhance geography map skills, helping to prepare our pupils to be informed global citizens
- They strive to develop a deeper appreciation for global diversity
